Accomplishments

In his efforts as a successful advisor to middle market businesses, the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants honored Jim with their Leadership Award.

Jim Duffy is the Partner-in-Charge of the Commercial Practice at Wiss and has extensive knowledge of the unique accounting, tax and operational issues faced by middle market businesses and business owners. Jim has worked closely with retailers, wholesale distributors and manufacturers in dealing with various accounting, tax and operational issues. He specializes in helping privately-held businesses meet their strategic and financial goals and manage the challenges of growth, cash flow and organizational restructuring. Jim provides guidance on matters such as mergers and acquisitions, financings, cost control and management succession. Jim established and developed Wiss' Food Industry Group, and in the process differentiated Wiss in the highly competitive metropolitan market.

Jim takes pride in forging strong client relationships and in providing consistently outstanding client service. He actively looks to provide clients with recommendations and introductions to contacts who will enable them to grow their businesses, solve issues and offer opportunities to branch out and be more successful. Jim assists businesses in improving cash flow and minimizing taxes through creative problem solving and careful planning. His proactive approach and dedication to client relationships makes Jim an invaluable trusted advisor to his clients.

Jim currently serves as a member of Wiss' Executive Committee.
